On reading the last minutes (31/3/07) the Vice Chairman expressed his surprise and disappointment at the delegates decision not to pursue an English Pairs tournament. The Chairman re-iterated that Seacroft are not interested because T & D Bowls are organising bowling events at this venue.

Festival of Bowls - The date does not allow Cambridgeshire to participate in these events. Can we pursue something for a weekend?

ECBA Rinks - Present timing for this event is difficult. Following discussion it was agreed depending upon entries to leave the date to the County holding the event .

World Pairs - Potters - Do you endorse this tournament? It was agreed by vote (7 for, 3 abstentions) that we do not endorse this tournament.

7. Referees Report
I wish to report that the Champion of Champions went very well with the exception of the following comments:-
Timings - I see from the agenda that this will be discussed later on in full and you have my proposed new layout.
Walking up and down the mat when not playing. 2 complaints here.

1. Some county bowlers and spectators are walking and stopping to talk alongside the mats whilst games are taking pace to the dismay of those playing on those mats. On a number of occasions I witnessed the participants complain or I have had to ask these people to move on. remind your county members that it is common courtesy not to walk down the mats whilst players are bowling and that if they do have to move, do so at change of ends.

2. Hotel staff. On many occasions hotel staff were ferrying food alongside mats 1 and 7. Once again I requested this to stop and ask that they either wait or walk through the annex at the far end but to no avail. We are hiring the venue and therefore it should be made clear to the hotel staff that we do not want them shuttling up and down mats during games.

There were also some unofficial complaints of possible coaching from the sidelines. I am sure this was not the case and on both occasions I spoke to the counties concerned but once again this is not permitted. Players should be reminded to stand by their mats during games and not wander over to the spectators, however innocent it may be and similarly, spectators should afford more space around the mats and not stand over the bowlers shoulders.

Finally, I would like to congratulate all the participants with their general conduct and sportsmanship throughout the weekend.

8. Review of Champion of Champions - June 2007

(a) Incidents during the weekend

Hotel staff walking alongside mats whilst games in progress

The Chairman informed the meeting that as we do not pay for the hire of the Hall, we cannot stop the staff walking past the mats when bring the refreshments into the Hall. He suggested that as there is no time limit, the mats concerned should stop playing for the short time it takes for the trolleys to pass. This was unanimously agreed.

Comments regarding the unofficial complaints of possible coaching from the sidelines and players talking to spectators away from the mat, have been noted. Counties should be aware and if appropriate act accordingly. It was mentioned, however, that it may be non-county players concerned who do not necessarily know of the etiquette involved at county level.

People drinking near the mat and comments made by players after the games were dealt with at the event and later by the County(s) concerned.

The Chairman referred to the correspondence circulated on this subject from Mr Stephen Rodwell. It was proposed that Mr Rodwell be invited to the next meeting of the ECBA to answer the question "how much does it cost". If he is not able to answer this question, then there is no reason for him to attend. The Chairman will speak to Mr Rodwell and put forward our question and invite him to the meeting if he is able to respond to our question.
